Catwalk
for Innovation is your idea worth spreading?

June 25th / 2012 / Ridderzaal / The Hague / tedxbinnenhof.com

At TEDxBinnenhof ten inspiring innovators can present their groundbreaking ideas. We are looking for people who are helping to realise breakthroughs in solving global challenges such as: pollution, hunger, disease or climate change. Ideas worth spreading that incite action, evoke awe and pride, and point the way to a better future. Can you take us there?

You get the chance to present your idea to a worldwide audience on the Catwalk for Innovation.

The talks will focus on ideas from one of the following Dutch sectors: High Tech Systems & Materials / Energy / Creative Industries / Agriculture & Food / Horticulture & Propagation Materials / Life Sciences & Health / Water / Chemical Industry / Logistics & Supply Chain Management / Head Offices & Workplace Innovation

On June 25th TEDxBinnenhof at the historic Ridderzaal in The Hague will seat 450 people from business, academia, politics and media around the Catwalk for Innovation. The event will be simulcasted live to several alternate locations in the Netherlands and Dutch embassies around the world. And: for all to see on the internet livestream.

The most inspiring speakers get a chance to have their talk featured on the main TED.com website!
